NEW LARGE GIFTS,
TEAMS HEAR TODAY

Still Confident That Goal Of $63,200 Will Be Subscribed

Heartened by reports 'several new large subscriptions' have been turned in, Community Chest drive workers pressed their prospect solicitation today in the hope that the combined tabulation of campaign teams sends the drive grand total up near or over the $63,200 goal Thursday at noon.

Meet Tomorrow Noon

The drive organization will hold its fourth report session tomorrow at 12:15 in the First Christian church.

And there were many indications today that the remaining $13,533 unsubscribed will be reported in when the round-up of canvassers takes place. The total now is $49,667.

The 1938 drive opened Monday evening, October 24 and has been in progress ever since. At the first report luncheon close to $35,000 was subscribed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

It would be a good idea for some motorists to arise earlier in the morning. Several of them were seen speeding their autos in Highland avenue, perhaps in order to get to work on time.

A ringneck last night flew against the side window of a police cruiser car driven by U. C. Harper in North Mercer street. When the officer went to find the bird he discovered it had managed to escape.

There is a bus filled with coal at police headquarters. It is the coal that a coal thief threw at Officer Edward Kovach last week. Kovach shot at the man as the thief fled in the darkness.

Trailer travel toward the south-land seems to be starting in early this year. Almost every day trailers are seen passing through the city. Yesterday seemed to be a good day. Pa News saw four trailers, and there were probably others that dodged him.

Pa News notices that the women are doing up their hair in a lot of new fashions, which makes some of them look better and some not so good. Probably it is somewhat a misnomer to say that they are "doing" it up. Perhaps it would be better to say they are having it "done up". Millions of dollars are now being spent by the fair sex in trying to attract the male by what's on their head, instead of what's in it.

It seems that campaign speakers can make an audience believe most anything. Pa News was at a political meeting the other evening when the speaker referred to the crowd as an "intelligent audience" and figuratively speaking the audience just waved their tails.

Spanish Insurgent Regime Asks Formal Recognition

(Copyright, 1938)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—A request for formal recognition of the insurgent regime in Spain was lodged with the British government by Generalissimo Francisco Franco today.

The request was made by the Duke of Alba, Franco's diplomatic representative in London.

Francisco's representatives asked that his regime be recognized by Britain immediately after the pending Anglo-Italian friendship agreement becomes effective.

The first reaction of the British government, however, was to hedge on the insurgent demand, pointing out that numerous questions had to be settled before a definite decision can be made.

Among these issues is the matter of freeing British merchant ships which have been seized by the Spanish insurgent naval forces.

No Formal Plans Made As Yet For Visit Of King To United States Next Year

By CHARLES A. SMITH

(Copyright 1938)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Reports that King George VI has received an invitation from President Roosevelt to visit the United States, or has accepted any such invitation, are "highly imaginative speculation."

International News Service was officially informed to this effect today by a source close to his majesty.

Visit to U. S. Undecided.

It was revealed that the question of whether the king and Queen Elizabeth will visit the United States at the close of their forthcoming Canadian tour remains undecided. It is likely there will be no final decision for some weeks, since their Canadian itinerary is only now being worked out.

Authoritative quarters pointed out that the time at their majesties' disposal for a possible sojourn in the United States cannot be forecast with any certainty at this date.

The monarch was described as "very sympathetic" to feelings from the United States and to local court and diplomatic pressure urging him to go to the United States.

He also is said to be fully cognizant of the likelihood that Americans might feel slighted if he failed to (Continued On Page Two)

Mrs. Hazel Cooper, president of the auxiliary states, and in purchasing these emblems the buyer is helping these men, in addition to contributing to the welfare fund of the auxiliary, which is used locally to assist the needy in various ways.

David Lloyd George Assails Chamberlain

Accuses Prime Minister Of "Acquiring Dictatorial Aims" Of Hitler

(Copyright, 1938)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today was accused of "acquiring the dictatorial aims" of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in a sharp statement by David Lloyd George.

The war-time prime minister's attack on Chamberlain came as a rejoinder to hints that more vigorous censorship will be imposed on British broadcasts to the United States.

Such broadcasts, in which Lloyd George and Winston Churchill recently attacked Chamberlain's foreign policy, amount to "fouling our own nest," Chamberlain told the House of Commons yesterday, without mentioning any individuals.

"I won't withdraw one sentence or one phrase of my broadcast," said Lloyd George, referring to his address last week in which he said that Chamberlain's path would only lead to a war worse than the one averted at Munich.

Endurance Flight Is Brought To End

Leaking Fuel Tank Ends Flight Over Dry Lake In California

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Cal., Nov. 2.—A leaking fuel tank today brought to an end the endurance flight of the light monoplane Little Bear after it had flown steadily for 218 hours and 33 minutes over Rosamond Dry Lake.

The pilots, Clyde Schlieper, of Long Beach, Cal., and Thomas H. Smith, of Clarksburg, W. Va., landed their craft on the desert without difficulty. They did not discuss the possibility of another attempt to break the endurance mark.

The flyers were many hours short of their goal for the all-type endurance record is 653 hours and 34 minutes. However, the tiny plane did break the former light aircraft record of 136 hours and 10 minutes.

Harley Long, also of Long Beach, alternated with the other two pilots in the cockpit of the plane.

In addition to a broken leg and arm, the child suffered numerous severe bruises, and is suffering considerably from shock.

Farmer Dies In Hospital From Gunshot Wound

Christopher Byler, Pulaski Township, Shot With Own Gun This Morning

GUN DISCHARGED THROUGH ACCIDENT

Victim Is Survived By Nine Children—Mother Killed Here In Runaway Accident

Lawrence County's first hunting season fatality occurred this morning, when Christopher M. Byler, aged 50, of Pulaski township died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:45 o'clock.

Death was the result of a wound in the chest, sustained when his own gun was discharged as he went to remove a trap a load of corn fodder which he had just brought into the barn on his farm in Pulaski township about two and a half miles west of New Wilmington, near the Cotton school. The accident occurred at 7 o'clock this morning.

Byler had brought a load of corn fodder in from the field and was preparing to unload it. He had taken the gun into the field with him this morning in the hope of getting a shot at a rabbit. The gun was hung on top of the load. It was stated, and when he went to remove the trigger caught, discharging the load into his right chest.

The charge tore a gaping hole in his chest, but did not pass entirely through.

Neighbors were notified and summoned medical aid from New Wilmington. Byler was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital by the doctor, where an examination revealed that his condition was critical.

The Byler family has been visited by more than the usual amount of tragedy in recent years. Mr. Byler's wife having been killed in a runaway accident at Falls and Jefferson streets here several years ago.

There are nine children in the family, who are made orphans by the tragedy.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, and will be announced later.

B.&O. To Continue Use Of P. & L. E. Tracks

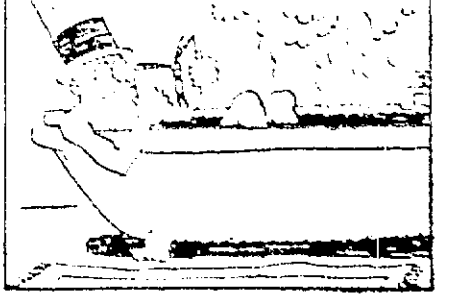

New Contract For Trackage Rights New Castle To McKeesport Authorized

(Copyright, 1938)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to continue operations under trackage rights over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad between McKeesport and New Castle Junction, Pa., but increased the annual rental from $250,000 to $300,000.

The commission said chief justification for use of the P. & L. E. trackage and facilities by the B. & O. company was the substantial savings in operating expenses that could be effected by the B. & O.

A new contract will be drawn up, to run 25 years from Oct. 1, 1937.

Report Three Kidnaping Cases Solved

Four Prisoners Stand Accused

One Of Kidnapings Resulted In Killing Of Arthur Fried, Authorities Say

HOOVER REPORTS SUSPECTS CONFESS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Solution of three kidnapings—one of which resulted in the death of Arthur Fried, 32, White Plains business man, and two others heretofore unrevealed—were claimed today with the arrest and alleged confession of four men.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the quartet confessed the three "snatches" and he also implicated them in three robberies in the Metropolitan area that netted $178,000.

Four Under Arrest
Hoover identified the quartet as Joseph S. Sacoda, 27, alleged ringleader of the gang who now is in Sing Sing prison as a parole violator; Demetrius Gula, 30, William Jackson, 27, and John Virga, 34, all of New York.

Fried, kidnaped at suburban White Plains on Dec. 4, 1937, was shot to death on Jan. 7 and his body burned in a furnace at a Manhattan social hall. Hoover stated. Even after his death, the abductors sought in vain to collect a requested $200,000 ransom.

Two other kidnap victims, Benjamin Furber, 33-year-old Brooklyn coal dealer, and Norman Miller, 19-year-old son of a Brooklyn Stevedore contractor, were released after payment of a portion of the demanded ransom within 24 hours after they were abducted last year.

In each case $25,000 was demanded. Furber gained his liberty when $10,000 was paid and Miller's family parted with $13,000 for his release, according to the chief G-man.

NO FORMAL PLANS MADE AS YET FOR VISIT OF KING

make the visit or at least to meet President Roosevelt at some convenient Canadian U. S. border point. Details are Enormous.

But, International News Service's informant declared, details connected with the Canadian trip are an enormous and need such careful thought and preparation that it is impossible yet to forecast with any certainty whether the king will be able to enter the United States.

This source thought a border meeting with President Roosevelt might be more probable, since it would not involve state preparations and similar, possibly embarrassing, details.

Meanwhile, it was learned, his majesty and the immediate court entourage are greatly annoyed over "foolish guesswork" such as a report published by the London Daily Herald today that a letter from the king is now en route to President Roosevelt, accepting the latter's alleged invitation to visit Washington.

Such reports, it was pointed out, can only result in harming the possibilities that the king will visit the United States.

Underground warnings have gone out to all London newspapers to refrain from publishing such stories which, it is insisted, have no basis in fact.

Meanwhile, Buckingham palace has promised to issue a complete statement of the king's plans as soon as such an announcement can be made officially.

CHAMBERLAIN TO HAVE NEW PARLEY WITH HITLER SOON

ed as a foregone conclusion that the Anglo-Italian treaty will shortly go into force.

To Seek Appointments

When this is accomplished, Chamberlain, as he indicated in his speech yesterday, will immediately take measures for the economic appeasement of all Europe. It is understood here that Hitler is ready to talk on this subject along the lines of the recent Munich power agreement.

The way for such negotiations was paved by Chamberlain's admission before the house that Germany is now the dominating force in Europe, and by his staunch defense of the Munich pact.

The contemplated appeasement is expected to embrace a large section of Europe, including the four nations signatory to the Munich agreement.

See Non-Aggression Agreement
The London Daily Herald states: "Before the end of the month, if the present negotiations are successful, France and Germany will announce a mutual non-aggression agreement."

In order to avoid technical difficulties, the paper said, this pact will probably take the form of a joint declaration rather than that of a signed and ratified treaty.

Each country will undertake not to attack the other, but to settle by peaceful means any differences arising between them," the Herald added.

In pressing for the Anglo-Italian agreement, Chamberlain expressed hope that parliament would give it quick approval. Debate on this issue will get under way today.

WORKS TRICK

Police were told at 2:45 p. m. The head salesman was out and the girl clerk returned the money. The man gave a phony name and address, the police learned.

Probe Of Death Of Seven C. C. C. Boys To Continue

(International News Service)
EMPHORIUM, Pa., Nov. 2.—Indications were today that the coronor's inquest into the deaths of seven C. C. C. enrollees while fighting a forest fire will continue at least until Thursday and perhaps later.

Earl Getz, protection supervisor of C. C. C. Camp 8-132 at Cameron, Pa., at which the ill-fated fire occurred, was subpoenaed, testified the youths and received some experience fighting fire in September. He said they had participated in fighting fires at Steam Mill and Jerry Run.

Getz declined to give an answer when District Attorney Edwin Tomkins asked him how much instruction the C. C. C. boys had received in fire fighting. He said this information was included in records turned over to the federal government which is making its own investigation of the tragedy. Tomkins later announced that C. W. Madison, Pennsylvania division director of the U. S. Forestry Department, had telephoned him from Harrisburg these records will be made available to the coronor's jury.

Lieut. Rodman M. Haynes, of Morrisville, Pa., reserve officer at the camp said all the C. C. C. boys had been in the camp for at least six months and that it was Getz's duty to train them in fire fighting. He admitted, however, that a book on fire fighting methods had not been issued at the camp until two days after the fatal fire.

Haynes admitted that prior to distribution of this book, entitled "C. C. C. Safety Regulations Relating To Forest Fire Fighting," no other regulations or information concerning the fighting of forest fires had been posted at the camp. William Schooley, junior engineer at the camp, the third witness called, told the jury Getz was absent when the fire broke out on October 19 and that he dispatched a crew to fight the flames. Schooley said he had instructions from Getz to respond to any fire calls but that when he sent the C. C. C. enrollees to fight the raging blaze he did not know whether or not they were trained in fire fighting methods.

A NEW CAR JOINS THE FORD QUALITY GROUP

THE MERCURY

V-TYPE Eight

A PRODUCT OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY

THE MERCURY V-8 TOWN SEDAN

For 1939 the Ford Motor Company presents an entirely new car—The Mercury Eight—designed to bring a new standard of value to its price field. Outstanding features are streamlined beauty—rich upholstery and appointments—95-hp. V-type engine—hydraulic brakes—remarkable quiet and comfort—116-inch wheelbase—wide bodies—exceptional room for passengers and luggage.

THOUSANDS of motorists, noting the extra value provided by the Ford in the low-price field and by the Lincoln-Zephyr in the higher medium-price field, have desired an equally outstanding value in the lower medium-price field.

The new Mercury 8 is the answer to that desire. It provides the added size and luxury that extra dollars buy, plus something this price class has never known before... Ford quality and dependability, with the performance and economy of a new V-type 8-cylinder engine.

It is made possible by the modern, progressive policies of the Ford Motor Company and its constant effort to give greater value to a widening circle of motorists.

The clean, flowing lines of the new Mercury reflect the distinction of the Lincoln-Zephyr—and, as every one knows, the Lincoln-Zephyr is now the accepted style leader and an example of Ford pioneering in original design.

The Mercury is a big car—long and unusually wide—with exceptional space for passengers and luggage. Three people can ride comfortably in both front and back seats. Head room and leg room are equal to that of many cars selling at considerably higher prices.

Because the Mercury is a big car, it is powered by a big 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine. Motorists who now own cars in this price field will be amazed at the brilliant, economical performance of the Mercury.

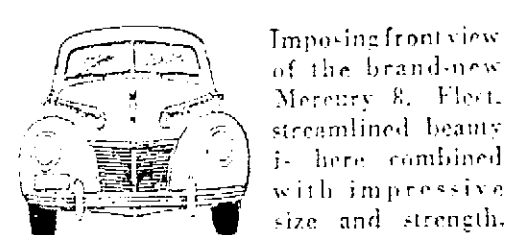

It is a remarkably quiet car. New sound-deadening materials have been developed in special Ford laboratories and thorough, scientific soundproofing by Ford engineers has reduced noise and vibration to a minimum.

Bodies are all-steel, welded into a single unit. It is equipped with hydraulic brakes built to strict Ford standards of safety and dependability.

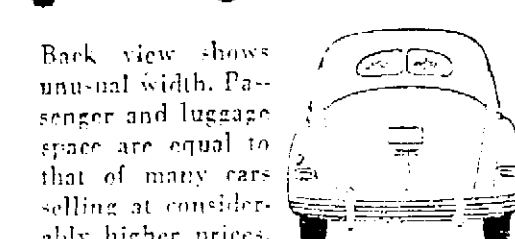

We invite you to see the new Mercury 8.

CIVIC DUTY CAN BE CARRIED TOO FAR

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 2.—A B. Clouse believes there is such a thing as carrying civic duty too far.

As a member of the Seneca county grand jury, he signed orders for a slot-machine clean-up.

The slots were confiscated and destroyed, and Clouse was on the receiving end of a $200 fine and a $500 peace bond, plus a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

From the West Pittsburg road, near the ward, an excellent view is obtained of the entire district.
Spread below in panoramic style the entire countryside is beautiful at this time of the year. Many motorists driving this road do so at a slow rate of speed, it has been noticed, in order to view the scenery.

The Great Game Of Politics

Republicans will lose are Maryland and California.

If this forecast, which represents the consensus of opinion of most impartial observers turns out to be approximately correct, it will be tremendously stimulating for a number of reasons. One is that it will demonstrate that Mr. Hopkins is wrong.

That while they can spend and spend and spend, and tax and tax and tax, they cannot elect and elect and elect. And that will be a very wholesome thing indeed. Another is that it will give the Republican party a base upon which to rebuild.

For eight years the Republicans have had not only no Federal patronage, but practically no State, city or county patronage. The Democratic landslides of 1932, '34 and '36 gave them not only the Federal Government but practically all else:

the Republicans were denuded of everything which a political machine must have to function; they were reduced to an almost complete state of political impotence.

THE RECAPTURE, through the election of gubernatorial candidates, of seven or eight States, would not only give the Republicans a great deal of State patronage with which to nourish their starved State organizations but it would give them nearly a thousand courtesies. No practical politician will minimize the value of that. Wholly aside from gains in Congress, the success of their local candidates in a few of the big States will be really significant of a turning tide. This election will show whether the Roosevelt Administration has acquired such power that it can continue regularly to smother all opposition or whether it has not. That is why it is so important.

Hunting Toll Nine To Date

Five Die From Misdirected Gunfire, Four From Heart Attacks

(International News Service)
Five deaths from misdirected gunfire and four from ailing hearts were the toll of hunters today as the third morning of small game season lured new thousands afield.

The fifth gunshot victim, Michael Sopota, 21, Johnstown, who was reported as accidentally shot by a companion, died today.

The first two days of hunting last year claimed the lives of four hunters, while 125 others were injured. Whereas three hunters died violently the opening day a year ago, only two such victims were reported Monday.

Safety Precautions
Safety precautions were stressed more than ever this year, the state game commission moving the opening day starting time from dawn to nine a. m.

Yesterday's brush-beating doubled the Monday death total, with Herman Wonderly, Allentown, and Lorenz Tychsen, 16, Waterford, being fatally wounded. The opening day saw the death of Harry Miller, 38, Clarksburg, and Paul Naleck, 16, Nesquehoning.

Three hunters succumbed from heart attacks on Monday. The fourth victim was Ira Kimmons, 44, of Bridgeton.

The city, an oil portrait of Mr. Rentz and a painted plaque which read "Distinguished Citizen, 1938."

The Service
There never was a more complete dinner served in the Cathedral dining room since it was first opened.

The ladies serving it, the women of the Winodausis are skilled by years of experience in serving large crowds but on Tuesday night there was something more than just mechanical efficiency evident. There was a very evident determination to have the dinner rank with the rest of the evening in precision and it did.

There was system in the serving and artistry in the preparation of the food.

The dining tables were covered with fern runners and white chrysanthemums with here and there red apples, adding an autumnal touch to the evening. As for the dinner itself it was turkey with the usual complementing vegetables.

The dinner over, Toastmaster William A. Francis introduced Charles A. Leedy, a well known newspaper columnist of Youngstown who delivered a humorous address. Leedy's work provided the touch of humor needed to keep the evening from getting too far on the serious side.

Tributes Given
A number of short tributes followed. Miss Margaret Bodenstein executive secretary of the American Red Cross presented Mr. Rentz with a certificate of appreciation sent by the national headquarters, and a lapel pin. Miss Bodenstein spoke briefly, commenting upon Mr. Rentz's co-operation with the Red Cross in past years.

Rev. A. M. Stump, president of the Lawrence county council presented the honor guest with a small bronze figure of a boy while Dr. C. B. Wingard, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church bespoke the commendation of the Ministerial association.

For the American Legion, Major Guy J. Wadlinger spoke and presented a bouquet and Dr. E. F. Henderson represented the Y. M. C. A. also presenting a bouquet. Mayor Charles E. McGrath spoke for the official life of the city and in a brief manner paid a tribute to Mr. Rentz and to all the industrial leaders of the city. Bouquets were handed up from the New Castle consistory and the Rainbow Girls.

Rev. J. Joseph A. Doerr, pastor of St. Joseph's church concluded the dinner program with a benediction.

Auditorium Program
The dinner program finished, the guests went to the auditorium where the more formal Distinguished Citizen's exercises were held. Again the decorations reflected the good taste of the persons responsible for them.

On a backdrop was an eight foot replica of the seal of the city. Banked against the speakers' table were the flowers that had been presented and for those taking part in the program, special furniture had been placed upon the stage. Heading those taking part was the general chairman of the evening Attorney George W. Muse.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey presided and introduced the speakers. First the invocation by Rev. W. V. McLean, pastor of the First Methodist church and then a selection by the American Legion band. A quartet consisting of Cliff H. Young, Leonard W. Kisthart, David W. Reed and Fred C. Scheppele, accompanied by J. V. Sypher sang a parody on "Bei Mir Bist Du Schön" and followed later with other numbers.

Prof. W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of the Croton school was the first speaker and his subject was "The Friend." In it he paid a touching tribute to the generosity of Mr. Rentz in his assistance to underprivileged children, especially in the Croton district.

Senator George T. Weingartner was the next speaker and his subject was "The Neighbor." The usual definition of neighbor is too narrow for Mr. Rentz, said Senator Weingartner. "In his case being a neighbor means being of assistance to all of Western Pennsylvania through his work in the Perry highway, other good roads movement and his many years of active, persistent effort to get the Pymatuning dam. He has been a good neighbor and this service tonight properly honors him."

Mrs. Helen Urmonson Felch, talented contralto, sang Mr. Rentz's favorite song, "Annie Laurie" and she will never sing it better than she did Tuesday night. She was followed by E. Arthur Sweeney, a publisher of Greensburg, and past president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association. Originally A. W. McDowell of Sharon was scheduled to speak but was called away before the opening of the program. Mr. Sweeney substituted for him and spoke on "The Publisher." Said Mr. Sweeney: "In Western Pennsylvania we know Mr. Rentz as the publisher of a splendid newspaper. Our associations with him are a little different than yours as citizens but we too have learned to admire and respect him."

Following Mr. Sweeney came the men's chorus of the First Congregational church, a group of singers in whose voices still clings the hint of old Wales, the land of song. The men sang "Men of America" to the tune of "Harlech" and they did a heroic job of it. They were directed by David Lewis and accompanied by Clifford James.

Judge W. Walter Braham.
Judge W. Walter Braham, president judge of the courts of Lawrence county, was the concluding speaker before the presentation of the plaque. "When one of our officials or citizens goes bad it is our fault," said Judge Braham, "but conversely when one of our citizens achieves an outstanding success, it is our success also. Here tonight we honor a success."

"For what do we look in a successful citizen? It is strength? It is the strong man who achieves success? Mr. Rentz is one among us we know to be endowed with force. Lacking opportunity he made his own opportunity. Lacking learning he became a lover of learning. He is a man who bows his own will to that of the people."

Louis B. Round then presented the bronze plaque to Mr. Rentz. It had stood on an easel during the program, covered with a cloth.

Before unveiling the plaque Mr. Round spoke briefly upon some of the highlights in the career of Mr. Rentz and then made the presentation. The plaque is a thing of beauty. Of solid bronze, it is entirely the product of New Castle men. The design for it was drawn by Ralph Galbreath, artist of the Pennsylvania Power Company. The artist who actually made it was Fred Brundert of the Johnson Bronze Company, and the plaque was produced in the plant of the bronze company.

It is a handsome thing and aside from being an unusual tribute to Mr. Rentz, it is a tangible evidence of the completeness of the Johnson Bronze plant, a plant that makes bushings and bearings as its main product, but can turn out a piece of work as beautiful as is the plaque. On the plaque is inscribed: "To Fred L. Rentz, for service to his fellow citizens of New Castle, Pa. November 1, 1938. Distinguished Citizen's Award." On it is the seal of the city and above the top edge is a relief of Mr. Rentz's head and shoulders.

Perhaps the fact that the gentleman so signally honored Tuesday night is the president of this paper tends to mitigate against giving the Distinguished Citizen's Day exercises the recognition it deserves from purely new stand point. Looking at it from a standpoint it can be honest to say that the affair was one of the finest civic gestures ever made in New Castle.

Scores of telegrams and letters were received by Mr. Rentz congratulating him upon the honor of Tuesday night. Because there were so many it was thought better to not attempt to read them.

As for any response at the close of the exercises, there was none. The emotion of the evening was too much for him and he refrained from making any speech.

Inception Of Affair
The inception of the affair came from a resolution passed by city council on October 3, 1938. This resolution set out that it was the purpose of the city government that a day be set aside from time to time for the public honoring of outstanding citizens. November 1 was named as the day for this year's event and a committee appointed consisting of George W. Muse, Bernard N. Hanson and Ivor V. Davis appointed to arrange for it.

An executive committee was then appointed consisting of George W. Muse as general chairman, Ivor V. Davis, William A. Francis, Presley N. Jones, Bernard N. Hanson, Ross D. Rosenberg, Jack Gerson, David S. Pyle, Mrs. John S. Crowl, J. Audley Boak, and Mrs. Louis B. Round.

The reception committee was headed by David S. Pyle, Speakers by Paul Dingley, Program by Presley N. Jones, Invitations by Ross D. Rosenberg, Dinner arrangements by Mrs. John S. Crowl, Decorations by Mrs. Louis B. Round, Plaque by Jack Gerson, Entertainment by Ivor V. Davis. Tickets sales by William A. Francis.

Efficient Work
Every committee functioned efficiently but the two committees whose work stood out because of the spectacular features of them were the dinner committee headed by Mrs. Round, and the decorations which were under the supervision of Mrs. Round. Both of these ladies distinguished themselves.

The exercises in the Cathedral auditorium closed with a distinctively religious tone. "Guide Me Oh Thou Great Jehovah" was sung by the audience with the men's chorus of the First Congregational church taking the lead and the benediction by Rev. Ross T. Williams pastor of the same church.

As the audience filed out the reaction to the entire affair was highly favorable. The events of the evening seemed to unloose a spirit of civic neighborliness that augurs well for future events of this kind.

Out Of Town Guests
Attending the affair were many visitors from out of the city. An attempt was made to get all their names but perhaps some have been missed. Those listed include Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merrillman of Beaver Falls, Mrs. J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dixon, Willis Rhodes, Miss Mabel Wilson, Dr. Robert B. Greer all of Butler, Dr. David B. Greer all of Butler, John Offutt, Carl Davidson of Ellwood City, I. Lamont Hughes of Pittsburgh, C. L. Arthur Sweeney of Greensburg, Alan Chandler of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Will Jenkins and Esther May Jenkins of Youngstown, O. William C. Herrick of New York City, W. A. Harding of Pittsburgh, Leo C. ## GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP SIX MEETS
Girl Scouts of Troop Six held a meeting at the Highland school, Tuesday afternoon. A brief business meeting was followed by a program of songs and games.

A novel game was devised in order to form a patrol club. Following officers were elected for the club: Helen Cohnery, Patti Preston, and Diana Elder.

The girls talked about the activities of Scout Week before bringing the meeting to a close.

Scribe, Patricia Kradel.

AT CROTON SCHOOL

Croton school was the scene on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock of the first regular meeting of the Croton school Girl Scouts, with instructors, Miss Leona Sankey and Miss Dorothy Patch, supervising.

Games were played by the group, followed by the singing of songs. The Girl Scout laws and duties were explained, and also the new scouts were told of the high standards they are to uphold. Plans were later discussed for the coming winter activities, and various suggestions were made.

The large group was divided into five patrols. Each patrol chose a name for their troop pertaining to literature, namely: Robin Hood, Snow White, Heidi, Joan of Arc and Wanderland.

In conclusion, the singing of taps took place, followed by the announcement that the next meeting would be held on Tuesday, November 8, at the school, and every Tuesday thereafter.

HIGHLAND SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 22 had their meeting in Highland church on Tuesday. The original troop number was 17, but due to the separation of the girls into different groups the younger girls are now members of Troop 22.

The girls worked on their notebooks at the meeting and some have theirs nearly completed.

Forty-Two Pass Test To Operate Auto

Learners Will Be Given Test
Here Again Next
Tuesday

NO TRICKERY USED
IN GIVING TESTS

Sixty-four persons applied for the privilege of operating a motor vehicle when the State Motor police conducted examinations Tuesday in Sampson street. Of the sixty-four, forty-two passed. The others failed. Examinations will be held again next Tuesday.

It was reported to the motor police yesterday by an applicant that he had been informed that trickery is used by motor police in giving examinations in an effort to ascertain the learners' knowledge of driving.

The motor police said such a report is erroneous and that, if persons follow the instructions of the motor police during the operating test, there is a big likelihood of the learner passing.

Should a motor policeman instruct a learner to stop the car at any point, turn at any point or to proceed or back up at any point the learner should do as instructed.

"You cannot make it too strong that no motor policeman uses trickery to cause a learner to fail. Our purpose is to help the learner," said Patrolman John C. Hardy.

Consider Plans For Wallace's Proposed Two-Price System

Economist Gives Plan Outlines

Cutting Out Part Of Distribution Program Is Involved In Scheme

SUBSIDY PLAN ALSO CONSIDERED

By DAMON RUNYON JR.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Three plans are being considered by department of agriculture experts as possibly "feasible" bases to carry out Secretary Henry A. Wallace's proposed two-price system, to route surplus foodstuffs to low-income groups at short prices.

A leading department economist, who asked his name be withheld, today said the plans, in effect, were:

1. A program under which the government actually would handle the marketing with cooperation of transportation agencies, producers and distributors.
2. To provide new forms of distribution than those now used to get the foodstuffs to market at less expense, thereby reducing the cost to the consumer.
3. A subsidy plan by which the "lower-one-third of the nation" would buy the products from established retail outlets, which would be reimbursed by the government for price differentials.

The expert defined the low-income group as "those just above the relief mark, but whose incomes are less than $1,200 or $1,000 per year." He said nearly 69 per cent of the employed adult population had incomes of less than $1,200 per year.

He compared the second plan to the gasoline-right-from-the-tank principle.

Give Less Service
"It would seek to lower prices of commodities by giving the consumer 'less service' he asserted. The less expense the distributors shoulder, the cheaper the commodity when it reaches the consumer."

"If you go to the store and buy a bottle of milk, it costs you less than if it were delivered to your door. If you get that bottle of milk directly from the depot where it is unloaded, it will cost even less. Then, if the handlers cooperated by attempting to lower costs of getting the milk to market, it would be still cheaper," he explained, by way of example.

"It works on much the same principle as the method which is used to supply milk to those on relief in New York. The price of milk at stations there, I believe, is about eight cents. If it were delivered to the home, it would cost approximately 13 cents. At stores, it costs slightly less. Bought at the platform where it is unloaded, it would cost about six and one-half cents."

"I believe milk, for example, on the cheaper distribution basis, could be offered to the low-income group at approximately nine or nine and one-half cents a bottle."

The economist indicated the system might first be conducted by the government on an experimental basis, then turned over to some industry groups for them to try out with the eyes of the government following closely.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Only about one-third of American foreign shipping can be carried in American ships. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, addressing the Navy League in London, seems to think we should be reconciled to this dependence on foreign ships; that nothing can be done about it.

"We in America," he says, "realize that shipping is, for us, an uncompetitive industry. . . . Our aims are really very modest. I hope that the time will come when we shall see eye to eye on merchant vessels as we do on our naval vessels."

"We try to understand your need for a great merchant fleet. We hope that you will try to understand our need for a small one."

Certainly no one could accuse Mr. Kennedy of that Yankee chauvinism which so irritated the British back in the more bumptious days of our budding nationhood. I do not mean to invoke that spirit here. We perhaps can afford magnanimity in our full-dress attitudes at Navy League banquets and the like.

We are respected at the most powerful nation in the world. Real modesty frequently is a luxury which only the strong can afford. It is nice that there was no such contempt at the banquet as those which sometimes marked the world circulation of our cockier and less grammatical envoys of earlier years.

But the question of seemingly public attitudes seems to me entirely apart from the question why a merchant marine should be, for us, a losing business; why we should find it necessary to plead for Britain's understanding of our modest needs; why we should be content to depend upon others to provide arteries for the vital bloodstream of our world commerce.

As to materials, skills and personnel for a merchant marine, we would outrank any nation in the world if we saw fit to organize and use them. The reason commonly advanced for our inability to build and operate ships in competition with other nations is our comparatively high wages.

The Copeland-Guffey ship subsidy bill, passed June 20, 1936, in the closing hours of the 75th congress, provides both a construction subsidy and an operating subsidy for ship-building, a differential in each instance to make up the difference in American and foreign cost.

Specifically, the government levels off this advantage, and, on that showing, our ships should compete on even terms. In administration circles, it was predicted that this would stimulate building and that we quickly would acquire a strong and independent merchant marine. But, with more than two years gone, our British ambassador rates us as just a kibitzer at this world shipping tourney and asks indulgence for our modest efforts.

A few days ago, this writer quoted an old friend as stating today's world issue is between the authoritarian and the free state, this hinging on comparative efficiency. While

Perfect Weather Boon To Motorists

Fall Tourist Travel Heaviest In Years, Motor Police Estimate

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—Almost perfect motoring weather and the fact that the mountains are at the height of their autumn coloring are the reasons given by state motor police for the heaviest traffic movement since midsummer in Pennsylvania.

The brilliant hues of autumn and the resultant scenic beauties have attracted thousands of motorists, who seek vantage points along many of the mountain roads for unobstructed views of the vast expanse of crazy-quilt slopes.

State police at DuBois reported that the motorists parked their cars alongside the roads and made impediments to thorough traffic. Nature's chemistry has already half-denuded the trees and bushes in the vicinity, converting the bright green summer colors to the rusty-brown and yellow of the fall leaves.

Japan, it was stated, will "not reject" participation of the Kuomintang, the present Chinese nationalist government, in a "new order" for the Far East. ### Health Bureau Warns Against Rabbit Fever

Use Of Rubber Gloves In Skinning And Dressing Urged

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—With the opening of the hunting season Pittsburgh's health department has issued a special warning to hunters, housewives and commercial game handlers, to guard against tularemia, or rabbit fever. Thorough cooking is one of the best safeguards.

Sportsmen are urged not to use any animal which has not every sign of good health, lively creatures which will only be shot on the run are most likely to be healthy. The use of rubber gloves in skinning and dressing rabbits is of vital importance.

Rabbits killed by dogs or cats should be particularly avoided as they may have been wounded, or infected, to be thus so easily caught. Detailed instruction to food handlers were sent out last night by H. C. Patton, superintendent of the city's food inspection bureau.

Requests Court To Dismiss Deer Suit

Game Commission Cites Reasons For Antlerless Deer Season In State

HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—Claiming an open season on antlerless deer is necessary for the health of the herd, the state game commission has asked the Dauphin county court to dismiss a suit asking that the season be revoked.

The suit was brought by seven taxpayers from York and Franklin counties.

Through Attorney General Guy K. Bard the commission filed an answer giving as reasons for declaring the six-day open season:

"That an unbalanced sex ratio exists in the deer herd which should be corrected."
"That the herd should be reduced to a size that would assure sufficient food and forage to sustain the herd in good healthy conditions."

The court will set a date for argument in the case.
Colonel Nicholas Biddle, commission president, said a thinning out of the herd would help balance the sex ratio, alleviate the food supply problem, and "help to eliminate the widespread damage now being caused by farmers and landowners."

Mickie Kabis of Niles, who defeated Young Stanley Ketchell at Warren and fought a good bout here recently, has signed to take on Tom Dalrymple of Salem.

Armand Covelli, local welterweight will take on Earl Tipton, who hails from the Greater Pittsburgh A. C. Armand is a southpaw and Tipton is a leftsitter.

No bouts were held last Monday night due to it being Halloween and it is believed that when eight bouts are staged next Monday night a big crowd will be in The Arena.

Penn State Will Meet Lafayette

Nittany Lions, After Surprise Syracuse Victory, Not Over-confident

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Far from becoming over-confident by their surprising upset of Syracuse Saturday, Penn State's Nittany Lions see an opportunity to recover prestige lost after the Bucknell and Cornell defeats, and are preparing for Lafayette this week with great determination.

The two regulars, Joe Peel, left guard, and Johnny Patrick, left halfback, who were kept out of the Syracuse game through injuries, are not expected to be available this week. To the injured list has been added Sam Kopach, another left halfback, who suffered a twisted knee.

Coach Higgins shifted Sever Torrell, regular center, over to Peel's position for Syracuse, and was so pleased with the 202-pound senior's performance that Torrell is expected to remain a guard for the rest of his playing career. Leon Gajechi, junior pivot man who replaced Torrell, also performed credibly.

The Lion mentor was also elated over the showing of Tom Vora, 195-pound sophomore end, and Chuck Peters, sophomore quarterback. Peters scored two touchdowns, one on a 90-yard run, and threw a touchdown pass. In 11 scrimmage plays he gained 159 yards.

Lafayette has not played State since 1934, but this Saturday's game is the sixteenth in a series which started in 1889. The Lions have won 10 and tied one of the previous encounters. Coaches Mylin and Higgins are well acquainted with each other's systems of play. At both Lebanon Valley and Bucknell Mylin coached teams, which frequently played Penn State.

Following the Lafayette game, which is the last home encounter, Penn State plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh on successive Saturdays.

LOCKLEY TEAM TO MEET
The Lockley football team still has four games left on the 1938 schedule and will stage a practice session tonight at the Lockley field at 5:30 o'clock. It was announced by Business Manager Robert M. Young. There will be an important meeting of the members in the clubhouse following the practice.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

With Tommy Henrich on baseball... While Tommy Henrich sat in a corner of the press box at Taggart stadium, a few nights back, endeavoring to watch the New Castle-Massillon shindig, and sign a flock of autographs for several hundred kids, the Rambling Reporter eased in and pumped a barrelful of baseball questions at the young star of the New York Yankees. The handsome 22 year old athlete, complied graciously.

For a young man who started playing professional ball in 1934, the Massillon lad is doing quite well. He was a member of the Monessen team, Penn State circuit, in '34 and advanced to Zanesville in '35 and then to New Orleans in '36. Following a tussle between the Cleveland Indians vs. Judge Landis, Henrich landed with the Yankees. "How does it feel to play with the great does it feel to play in the world?" "It's like a dream. It was the greatest thing that ever happened in my life," the smiling athlete said.

World Series stuff... What did you think about the Cubs? He de-liberated for a few moments and then, "Frankly speaking, I was disappointed. I believed the pitching would be tough, but it wasn't. They seemed all shot out," Henrich said. I asked about Jerome "Dizzy" Dean and here's the answer I got: "There is nothing in baseball that can match Dean's courage and heart. As for his arm—he doesn't have much left, the arm is gone." The right-fighter praised Crasetti and Gordon, and termed them the cog of the

Seabiscuit Is Race Winner

Defeats War Admiral In Much Talked Of Match Race At Pimlico Track

WAR ADMIRAL IS LIKELY TO RETIRE

(International News Service)
PIMLICO, Md., Nov. 2.—There was no doubt today that Seabiscuit is America's greatest thoroughbred. The title was clearly earned when the Charles S. Howard champion lowered the banner of War Admiral by four lengths in their thrilling duel at Pimlico yesterday.

Before 40,000 historical fans, Seabiscuit set a new track record of 1:56.3-5 seconds, thoroughly outclassing the 4-1 pre-race favorite over the mile and three-sixteenths course.

Seabiscuit is really an "iron horse." The race was his 84th start and he reminds of the famous steeds far back whose careers were never finished until they had carried silks for a hundred times or more.

Earnings Increase.
Those who favored Guttenberg in the old days consider Seabiscuit another Blitz. The latter thoroughbred was always in action and generally won.

Howard is intent upon racing his charge until he eclipses the sum of $376,544 earned by the marvelous Sun Beau, the pride of Willis Shaper Kilmer. Seabiscuit's winnings amount to $340,430, so he has not far to go to land the world's money record.

Seabiscuit is expected to be given a brief rest and then go after the princely purses offered by the coast tracks.

War Admiral probably bade farewell to the turf when he left the course after his defeat. He will probably be sent to the Glen Riddle farm at Berlin, Md., where he will join his famous sire, Man O' War, in the stud.

Overnight Sports

(International News Service)
Seabiscuit, owned by Charles Howard, was the king of American turf today, thoroughly beating the famed War Admiral by four lengths in yesterday's duel before 40,000 at Pimlico. The race west coast thoroughbred set a new track record of 1:56.3-5 seconds for the mile and three-sixteenths course.

Solly Krieger, New York veteran, won the middleweight boxing bout by taking a 15-round decision from Al Hostak at Seattle last night. Hostak, in the first defense of the title he won from Freddie Steele, injured both hands. His trainers believe he broke his left hand in the fourth round.

The Henry Armstrong-Cofe Garcia welterweight title fight, scheduled for tonight in New York, has been postponed until Nov. 25 because of a back injury suffered by the champion Armstrong in winding up his training yesterday.

Jimmy Fox, Boston Red Sox first baseman, was named the American League's most valuable player for the third time. Fox, who won the award in 1932 and 1933, received 304 out of a possible 336 votes.

New Castle High Meets Monessen Here On Friday

Night Game At Taggart Stadium Will Be Final Home Game Of Year

GENDER IS STILL OUT OF LINEUP

New Castle high "Red Hurricane" football team, having recovered from the defeat at the hands of Massillon high last week, is going about the business of getting ready for the invasion of the Monessen high Greyhounds on Friday night under the lamps at Taggart stadium. The kick-off will be at eight p. m.

Faculty Manager Scoots Nelson has sent a batch of 250 to 300 tickets to the Steel City and it is likely that they will send a big delegation here if the weather is right.

Ciarella Recovers
Joe Gender, who was injured in the Warren game, is still out of the line-up and probably will not get back in action much before the Martins Ferry or Sharon games. "Chuck" Ciarella may be back at the signal-barking post this week, replacing DeMarco, who has subbed so brilliantly for Ciarella.

Monessen brings a team here that will give the locals a fight. Last week the Monessen team lost a tough luck game to Mon City high, 18 to 6, for the Mon Valley "Big Six" conference, but Mon City has a great team this year and are headed for the valley title.

This will be the final home game for the "Canes." It will be the fifth class AA W. P. I. A. L. battle. New Castle at present is out of the running with one defeat and three victories.

Phillips Kicking
Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is giving the team a lot of attention this week. No serious injuries cropped up in the Massillon game. Wilbur Phillips, who did a nice job of punting in the Massillon game, will probably be kept at that spot this week. Gender is the regular punter but of course with Gender out of the picture it is necessary for somebody to kick, and the big Welsh boy responded beautifully last week.

Tickets for the Monessen game were placed on sale Tuesday at the Sporting Goods Store.

Solly Krieger New Champion

Surprises Champion Young Al Hostak Of Seattle With 15-Round Victory

HOSTAK WON TITLE FROM FREDDY STEELE

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 2.—Scoring a stunning upset in a toe-to-toe slugfest, Solly Krieger, New York veteran, last night won the middleweight boxing championship by taking a 15-round decision from young Al Hostak, of Seattle.

It was Hostak's first defense of his title since having the then champion, Freddie Steele, of Tacoma, last July in Seattle.

Hostak had much the best of the affair for the first four rounds, but then wilted suddenly under a barrage of blows.

Trainers said the young battler broke his left hand in the fourth with a blow to Krieger's head and seriously injured his other hand later in the fight. X-rays were to be taken today to determine the damage.

Takes Lacing
Unable to fathom Krieger's weird jumpy style and using only his right throughout the last eight rounds, Hostak took a terrific lacing.

He was dropped to his knees by a blow to the chin in the 14th but came up immediately for no count. In the later rounds, the New Yorker concentrated on his opponent's face. Hostak could barely see at the end of the match.

The result was a complete surprise to the crowd of 10,000. Hostak, with a record of 17 consecutive knockouts, was a heavy betting favorite despite Krieger's record of never having hit the canvas. Hostak weighed 159½, and Krieger 160.

SPENT OVER TWO YEARS JUST RIDING TO WORK

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 2.—For 50 years, George A. Salman, of Wilmington, commuted daily to Philadelphia before he retired last month.

Now that he is no longer on the active list, Salman has found time to figure out the statistics. He estimates that he spent the equivalent of two years and two months simply riding on trains and covered 350,000 miles. All that traveling, over a distance of approximately 30 miles, hasn't gotten him anywhere, as he's right where he started from.

Union Defeats Slippery Rock

Scotland Laners Cop Six-Man Football Decision; Final Count, 13-7

After being held scoreless in the first half, Union, Township high school six-man football team came back strong, scoring two touchdowns to defeat Slippery Rock, 13-7. The game was played Tuesday afternoon at Union field.

In the third period, Kovach picked a Slippery Rock pass out of the air and dashed for paydirt. McGarry paved the way for the winning score when he recovered a Slippery Rock fumble deep in his opponents' territory. Jaskolka lugged the ball over the last chalk line. The Rockers annexed their lone tally in the final stanza, Fleming going over. The game was fast and provided plenty of thrills for a large crowd.

The lineup:
Union—13. Slippery Rock—7.
Calazza, L. E., R. Hogg, Sniezek, C. C., Cooper, West, Plonka, R. E., Cooper, Jaskolka, Q. B., Fleming, Kovach, H. B., Wayne, McGarry, P. B., Morrow.

Griddler Enters Religious Cult

(International News Service)
HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 2.—A dual personality that caused Harrington K. Gates to glory in the rough-and-tumble bodily contact of football and then shun all sports and recreation as sin puzzled Dartmouth's officials and students today.

After dramatically joining the Dartmouth football squad last week and playing brilliantly as a blocking back against Yale last Saturday, Gates, rated in 36 and 37 as an all-American back, suddenly resigned from school and went into seclusion at Amherst, N. H., with a religious cult known as the Legion of God, or the Holy Ghost and Us society.

To Dean Lloyd K. Neidinger of Dartmouth, who went to the cult farm and pleaded with Gates to return to college, the 24-year-old senior explained the conflict within himself was too much. If he went to college, the temptation to play football was too great, and playing football was a violation of the tenets of his religious beliefs.

The turmoil in Gates' mind had been known for some time. He was at Dartmouth on a scholarship and was working as a furniture salesman and in the Clark school dining room. He became interested in the Legion of God cult in his sophomore year. He played football, but shunned all other athletics and social activities as sin.

THIRD U. P. TEAM
Walter Mann, Jr., of Sumner, athletic manager of the Third U. P. church basketball team, announced today that the Third U. P. team of the Church league will have a practice session at the "Y" tonight between eight and nine o'clock, and that all players should report.

Narrow Range
In Stock PricesPre-Election Day Influences
Grip New York Market
More FirmlyBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Pre-election day influences gripped the stock market more firmly today, as leaders backed and filled in an extremely narrow and irregular price range.

Leaders drifted aimlessly from the opening bell, although here and there a stock displayed independent strength and activity. First hour sales were restricted to 190,000 shares.

Such representative groups as steels, motors, coppers and rubbers were about equally divided between plus and minus signs. Electrical equipments and chemicals were a shade higher, while most small orders and aviation displayed an easier undertone.

Included among the stocks to show minor declines were U. S. Steel, Republic, Johns-Manville, American Smelting, Montgomery Ward, Sears, Roebuck, Public Service of N. J., and Goodyear.

On the plus side of the ledger were Bethlehem, Chrysler, DuPont, Anaconda, Westinghouse, U. S. Rubber, Standard Oil of N. J., Pennsylvania and Consolidated Edison. Eastman Kodak climbed a point at one time.

Commodities showed no appreciable change. Grains drifted irregularly lower. Demand for transition beans featured on otherwise colorless bond market.
